FILE OF PAPERS.

SUBJECT:

Soro Antonio

alleged Italian Murderer

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
INVESTIGATION BRANCH,
QUEEN'S HOUSE, 140 QUEEN STREET, MELBOURNE,
16th March, 1928.

S.A. 1893/1

Inspector R.J.L. Connard, ADELAIDE.

Antonio SORO.

In "Smith's Weekly" of the 31st December last year, there was an article about an Italian named Antonio Soro, who was convicted of murder in Melbourne in October 1914, and subsequently released and deported with Italians proceeding to the war in April 1918.

The article, which you may care to look up, set out that six years ago Soro returned to Australia, but again left for Italy. During the recent shipping strike - that is, the strike last year - he landed at Adelaide and came overland once again.

Will you kindly advise me whether you have any record of this man's landing in Australia, as if he has done so it is desired to take steps to ensure his deportation, if possible.
